

About ISEEN

Independent Schools Experiential Education Network (ISEEN) is an international learning laboratory and networking opportunity through which independent school experiential educators, administrators, and classroom teachers can share their challenges and successes, learn of and from model programs, and explore the developing role of experiential practices within our educational communities. Experiential education encompasses a host of different initiatives in each of our schools including: outdoor/adventure education, global education, community engagement and service-learning, sustainability initiatives, leadership development, classroom pedagogy, and diversity, equity and inclusion.
