Chapter One

There is a myth of dragons. People often like to draw dragons. When they draw them, they always put details. This is a good-looking dragon. The Phoenix dragon. This dragon lives in Mexico. It likes to eat big animals or... people. When it dies, it turns into ash, then it gets reborn. Phoenix tears heal any injury like a poison bite from a snake. In reality, these fossils belonged to a primitive form of the phoenix. The phoenix dragon has no legs.
